

SUBJECT INDEX TO VOLUME XXII.

Page.		Page.
Abbe, Cleveland, Notes by the Editor—
Elastic suspension for instruments.....		25 Abbe, Cleveland— Continued .
The reliability of the rain gauge.....		25 Relative frequency of auroras.....
Prediction of seasonal snow and rain.....		25 Amount of aqueous vapor in the atmosphere during 1894
Snow in New England.....		26 Acworth, A. E., old records of cold weather in March in Maryland..
Lunar halos.....		75 Atmospheric waves.....
Pogonip		76 Accumulated departures
Chinooks and hot winds.....		76 Alabama (see State Weather Services)
Warm regions in cyclones.....		77 Alaska, observations in, by W. B. Featherstone
The aurora polaris		77 Alaska, observations in, by H. S. Tibbey
Old records of cold weather in March in Maryland.....		78 Alexander, E. P.
Tornado cloud of March 4, 1894		126 Annual Summary for 1894
Observations at Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands	127, 174, 217, 255, 298,	127 Areas of 20° rise or fall (see Temperature of the Air).
	373, 419, 468, 509	Arizona (see State Weather Services)
The meteor of March 27, 1894, in Iowa.....		Argenta, J. J. B., photograph of a mountain shadow.....
Observations in Alaska, by W. B. Featherstone of San Francisco, Cal.....		128 Arkansas (see State Weather Services)
Observations in Alaska, by H. S. Tibbey		128 Army post surgeons, cooperation of (see Introduction)
The weight of snow.....		128 Atmospheric Electricity.....
The Beaufort wind scale as used at sea		174 Atmospheric Pressure.....
Remarkable hail		175 Auroras, frequency of, during 1894.....
The temperature of May and of the year.....		215 Auroras (see Atmospheric Electricity)
Record of auroras at Willets Point, N. Y.....		216 Auroras at Willets Point, N. Y., record of.....
Discharge of streams during floods		253 Aurora of August 19–20, 1894
Dates of first snowfall.....		255 Aurora polaris.....
Cloud phenomena attending hailstorms.....		292 Balloon ascension, December 4, 1894.....
Lumps of ice as hailstones		292 Bigelow, Prof. F. H., the comparison of temperature with magnetic horizontal force
Climate and vegetation—request for data		293 Barometric reduction to sea level, by Prof. H. A. Hazen.....
Dates of first killing frosts in Indian Territory and Oklahoma.....		328 Blandford, S. M., lumps of ice as hailstones.....
The aurora of August 19–20, 1894.....		328 California (see State Weather Services)
Smoke from forest fires.....		329 Canadian service, cooperation of (see Introduction)
The possibilities of long-range forecasts.....		330 Charts in Monthly Reviews:
Studies on hurricane winds and high waters		372 Depth of snow on ground at end of month
Distant storms indicated by tides at New York		372 Depth of snowfall, total monthly.....
Normal annual snowfall.....		373 Fog on North Atlantic Ocean
Remarks on the tornado at Little Rock, Ark., October 2, 1894..		414 Ice in North Atlantic Ocean.....
Early snows in Connecticut from 1783 to 1882.....		418 Isobars, isotherms, and prevailing winds, current monthly.....
Mechanism of high and low areas, or pleiobars and meiobars....	442, 445	444 Limits of freezing weather
Chinook of November 13–14, 1894.....		463 Precipitation, total monthly.....
Protection from frost		464 Tracks of centers of high pressure.....
The effect of wind on the thermometer		464 Tracks of centers of low pressure
Warm air attending low areas		464 Charts in Annual Summary:
Atmospheric waves.....		464 Mean annual pressure for 1894
Temperature of the water in Seabago Lake, near Portland, Me.....		507 Wind resultants for 1894.....
Balloon ascension, December 4, 1894.....		507 Mean annual temperatures for 1894
The storm at Ponta Delgada, December 8, 1894.....		508 Maximum temperatures for 1894
Local electricity in a windstorm in Wyoming.....		509 Minimum temperatures for 1894
Local contrasts of wind and weather		509 Total precipitation for 1894
A local squall at West Berkeley, Cal., December 11, 1894.....		509 Characteristics of the Weather.....
Local storms on the west coast of Mexico.....		510 Chaves, Capt. Francisco A., the storm at Ponta Delgada, December 8, 1894
Photograph of a mountain shadow		510 Chief of Engineers, the flood in the Columbia River, report on.....
The flood in the Columbia River.....		510 Chinooks and hot winds
Replies to correspondents—		511 Climate and vegetation—request for data
(1) Effect of mountains on wind		511 Climatological data, Weather Bureau stations
(2) Origin of cold waves		512 30, 82, 132, 176, 218, 256, 294, 332, 374, 420, 466, 514, 541
(3) The index of the minimum thermometer		512 Climatological data, Canadian stations.....
Meteorology in the schools.....		38, 90, 140, 184, 226, 264, 302, 340, 382, 429, 475, 528, 538
The origin of storms.....
Relative frequency of thunderstorms
